

What I know...

I know we arrive on this earth as amazingly creative spirits. I know that life is all made up.

I know that when I combine the belief that I am a creative being with the idea that life is all made up, I am able to create an amazing experience for myself.

I know there is a huge difference between making a living and creating a rich and engaging life.

I know that a path to this life is playing a Bigger Game.

I know we can all play a Bigger Game with our lives, if we choose.

I know that playing a Bigger Game designs who I want to become.

What does playing a Bigger Game mean?
It means there is a creative genius inside me that wants out.
• It means I understand that I'm an "artist" and creator at my core. • It means that as an "artist," I am always seeking the next fulfilling expression of my "artistry." • It means I long to have a positive impact in my world. • It means I understand my value and want to make real the gifts I long to share. • It means I deeply want to make a difference with my life.

I know when I focus more on the impact I wish to have with my life, I generate more of what I wish to have in my life!

I know there is a big difference between managing my life and creating and directing my life.

I know my life moves in the direction of the primary conversations I am having with others and myself.

I know at times I experience great doubt. I bet you do, too. I know the path to diminishing my doubt is my recommitment to my Bigger Game.

I know the antidote to my insecurity is my creativity. I know I drift and forget this. I bet you do, too.

---

I know it is less about getting it right and more about getting it started. I know there is a dream in each of us that wants to be made more real!

---

I know I need to have structures and practices in place each day to keep me in the game.

---

I know I need help with all that I wish to create. I know it is time to: think like an owner of my life, activate my entrepreneurial spirit, take creative responsibility.

---

I know I love to inspire and transform people. That's what I'm here for. That's what I'm all about. That's the work I want to bring to the world.

---

I know that it's all made up. Which always leads to the big question... What will I create? I know that when I get to the end of my life, I want to boldly and proudly say, 'that was a great ride,' rather than, 'I wish I had...'

---

I know you want that too! More to come! Namaste, Rick
